Permission to Publish

By checking the box allowing your information to be "published", you will further the community interests of Loyalists.

As a rule, all newly approved members have their applicant name, their loyalist name and their United Empire Loyalist Association branch name published in the UELAC gazette, and for some branches, in the branch newsletter. All other personal contact information is protected and those seeking to contact you, such as possible relations, will have to leave their own contact information with your branch, and you will then contact them. Your branch may allow you to file a consent so that the branch can help others, such as relatives, get in touch with you directly, or so that the branch may act as your agent by providing selected information on your behalf.

The Association Council allows scholars and institutions access to other personal contact information for academic purposes, and approves each request individually.

An open-access website to interest potential new members has been proposed but with access to only archival information current to the same historical dates used by The Ontario Archives (births up to 97 years ago, marriages 82 years and deaths 72 years). Your permission will allow the Association the ability to further this aim.

If and whenever personal contact information is involved, permission to publish will always be sought from each member as per our privacy policy available from our web site at <http://www.uelac.org> or directly at <http://www.uelac.org/privacy.pdf> .
